

LMS LIBRARY CORNER

News from the Heart of Longfellow

By the Numbers

September 2019 Edition

#Class visits: 107

#Student Checkouts: 3037

#Student Visits: 1468

New Books: 175

Holds Placed: 48

Latest from the Library

Pumpkin Spice is in the air, and the business in the library is booming! We welcome back Mrs. Hoyle to the Library! Mrs. Hoyle—it is great to have you back. Returning to the Library is Mrs. Saladino. New this year is our Online Library Catalog, and a new platform for digital books, MackinVia. Since the school year started, we have seen every single student for a library orientation (shout out to the English Department for bringing your students down) and have worked with English, World Languages and Science on website evaluation, database use, citations, summarizing, and Noodletools. Ms. Layton’s History 7 classes participated in primary and secondary source activities while reviewing the Civil War.

Come see lots of new or updated non-fiction titles in the library!

We also celebrated ALA’s Banned Book Week 9/23—9/27 through our Banned Book Display, sparking conversations on censorship and the freedom to read.

October Happenings

In October we are welcoming our two Library Interns, Ms. Martino and Ms. Schorr. Both Interns will be working with students, teaching library lessons and assisting with book checkout. Meanwhile, the Student Library Advisory Committee is working on creating new passive library programming, as well as new book displays.

New Fiction Books in the Library

